WELCOMING ADDRESS

GOOD MORNING!

Education is one of the most important investments a nation can make in its people. When access to quality education is expanded, professional capacity is strengthened, institutions are empowered and communities gain greater opportunities for development.

It is in recognition of the transformative power of education that we gather here today to celebrate the achievements of our graduands. On behalf of the Institute for Open Learning, it is my distinct honour and privilege to welcome you to this memorable occasion.

To our Guest of Honour Dr Quinton van Rooyen, Managing Director of Trustco Group Holdings, our Keynote speaker Ms. Patience Masua, Deputy Director: Office of the Prime Minister, distinguished guests, valued stakeholders, representatives of our partner institutions, members of staff, parents, families and friends, thank you for joining us on this important occasion. Your presence demonstrates a shared commitment to education and the development of Namibia's human resources.

To our graduands, congratulations on reaching this significant milestone. Today, we recognise your achievements and celebrate the successful completion of an important stage in your academic and professional development.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

The Institute for Open Learning was established to broaden educational opportunities through open and distance learning. Our approach enables individuals to pursue further education while managing employment, family responsibilities and other commitments. This model remains particularly significant in a society where access to flexible learning opportunities can make a meaningful difference in people's lives and professional prospects.

The impact of this commitment is reflected in IOL's achievements. To date, the Institute has enrolled more than 63,000 students in short courses and academic programmes and graduated approximately 17,000 students through accredited academic programmes in education and policing.

These figures demonstrate the reach of our work and our contribution to developing professionals who serve in important sectors of our society. However, institutional success must be measured not only by enrolment and graduation figures, but also by the quality of education we provide, the relevance of our programmes and the confidence our students and stakeholders place in us.

Service excellence must therefore remain at the centre of our work. We must continually assess how we serve our students, strengthen our administrative and academic processes, respond to stakeholder needs and ensure that our programmes meet the required standards. This responsibility requires professionalism, accountability, effective communication and a willingness to improve. It also requires us to work collectively, recognising that every member of the IOL community contributes to the institution's reputation and success.

As we celebrate our achievements, we remain mindful that sustaining progress requires continuous improvement, strong partnerships and an unwavering commitment to quality.

OUR ESTEEMED GRADUANDS,

The qualifications you receive today reflect the effort you have invested in your studies and the competencies you have developed. They also bring new responsibilities as you apply your knowledge in your workplaces and communities.

As you progress in your careers, remember that professional credibility is built through more than academic achievement. It requires ethical conduct, sound judgement, accountability and a willingness to continue developing your skills.

To graduates in education, your work contributes directly to the quality of learning and the development of future generations. Approach your profession with dedication, fairness and a commitment to creating learning environments in which learners can thrive.

To our graduates in policing, you carry a responsibility to uphold the law while protecting the rights, dignity and safety of the public. Exercise your authority lawfully, fairly and proportionately, remain accountable for your decisions, and ensure that your conduct reflects the principles of justice and respect for human rights.

To all our graduates, let your qualifications be demonstrated through responsible leadership, professional competence and meaningful contributions to society. Continue to learn, adapt to changing demands and uphold the standards expected of the professions you represent. Today also marks the beginning of your lifelong connection with the Institute. You now become part of the IOL alumni community, and IOL will remain your alma mater for life.

We encourage you to maintain this relationship, share your professional experiences and achievements, and help inspire those who will follow in your footsteps. Your success will contribute not only to your own development but also to the continued standing of the institution from which you graduated.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

An occasion such as this also reminds us that educational achievement is supported by the commitment of many people.

To the parents, families and friends of our graduands, we thank you for your encouragement and support throughout their studies. Your contribution has helped make today's achievements possible.

To our academic and administrative staff, we acknowledge your dedication to teaching, student support and the effective operation of the Institute. Your professionalism remains essential to the quality of service we provide.

To our stakeholders, partner institutions, regulatory bodies and fellow educational institutions, thank you for your continued cooperation. Strong partnerships enable us to respond to emerging needs, improve educational opportunities and strengthen the contribution of education to national development.

Looking ahead, IOL remains committed to widening access to education, maintaining academic standards, improving student support and ensuring that our programmes remain responsive to the needs of the country.

We must continue to evaluate our performance, embrace appropriate innovation and strengthen the systems that support effective teaching, learning and service delivery. Through these efforts, we can reinforce public confidence in the Institute and ensure that our work produces meaningful and lasting outcomes.

Our responsibility is not simply to provide educational opportunities, but to ensure that these opportunities contribute to professional growth, institutional capacity and the development of Namibia.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

As we conclude, let us remember that the true measure of an educational institution lies not only in the qualifications it awards, but in the positive impact its graduates make in society.

To our graduands, you leave this ceremony with more than a qualification; you carry the responsibility and opportunity to contribute meaningfully to your professions, your communities and the future of Namibia. We are proud of what you have achieved and look forward to the difference you will make, kindly accept our sincere congratulations.

On behalf of IOL, I thank you all for being part of this important occasion. May we continue working together to advance accessible, relevant and quality education for the benefit of our nation.

With these words, I warmly welcome you all to the 2026 Graduation Ceremony of the Institute for Open Learning.

Once again, congratulations to our graduands, Class of 2026. As you embark on the next chapter of your journey, go forth and serve the Namibian communities with dedication, integrity and a commitment to making a positive difference. I wish you every success in your future endeavors.

Thank you!

Mr Triumph Edo-Omufo
Vote of thanks

Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen,

Allow me to stand on the existing protocol.

It is my great honour, on behalf of the Academic Advisory Board, to deliver this Vote of Thanks on this memorable occasion as we celebrate the achievements of our graduates.

Today is more than a graduation ceremony; it is a celebration of determination, sacrifice, perseverance and success. Such a memorable event would not have been possible without the dedication and collective efforts of many individuals.

Let me begin by sincerely thanking our Director of Ceremonies for guiding us through the programme with professionalism and excellence.

To our Guest of honour and Keynote Speaker, thank you for your inspiring and thought-provoking message. To our Deputy and Acting CEO: Education, Mrs. Anna Imalwa, thank you for your welcoming address and continued leadership in advancing IOL's mission of providing accessible, quality education.

We also extend our appreciation to our spiritual leader for the opening prayer, the choir for the beautiful music, and our Registrar for the dignified conferment of qualifications.

To our tutors, moderators, academic coordinators and the entire IOL staff, thank you for your dedication and commitment to academic excellence. To our regulatory authorities, partners, stakeholders, suppliers and service providers, we appreciate your valuable contributions.

A special word of appreciation goes to the organising committee and the Marketing team. Your hard work, careful planning and attention to detail have helped make this ceremony a success. Thank you for your outstanding efforts.

And now, to our graduates, the stars of today!

Ladies and gentlemen, please join me in congratulating the Class of 2026!

Dear graduates, you have worked hard, made sacrifices and overcome challenges to reach this important milestone. Today, we celebrate not only your qualifications but also your courage, discipline and determination.

As you step into the next chapter of your lives, remember that graduation is not the end of learning; it is the beginning of new opportunities and responsibilities. Do not allow your qualifications to remain certificates on the wall. Use your knowledge to solve problems, create opportunities, uplift your communities and contribute to the development of Namibia.

Remember this: your circumstances may influence where your journey begins, but they do not have to determine where your journey ends. Continue learning, remain humble, embrace opportunities and never stop believing in your potential.

To the parents, families, friends and supporters, thank you for your sacrifices, encouragement and unwavering support. Today's success is also a celebration of your contribution.

As we conclude, let us continue working together to make education a powerful instrument for personal growth and national development.

Dear graduates, go out with confidence, lead with integrity and let your achievements make a difference.

Aspire to acquire your desire, which you admire if by the road you perspire do not retire but refire to acquire your desire which you admire because in Issiah even in Jeremiah, Nehemiah, Obadiah Zephaniah is it the desire of the messiah to grant your heat desire, but if your get tired do not retire but look up to messiah who cannot expire and he will rekindle and grant your heart desire. (Edo Triumph 2020 ©)

Today, we celebrate your success. Tomorrow, Namibia will benefit from your contribution.

Once again, congratulations to the Class of 2026!

May God bless our graduates and their families.
May God bless the Institute for Open Learning.
And may God bless the Republic of Namibia.

Thank you, and congratulations to you all!
